

Learner Experience

David Coleman, Assistant Principal,
Student Services

"From the moment they enquire about courses, they experience the welcoming and supportive environment that leaders and staff create."

"Staff take great care to understand in detail each student's prior learning, career plans and any barriers to learning. Learners feel extremely well guided towards the best course for them"

Learners feel privileged to study at the Institute.

"Through useful activities at the start of courses, learners get to know each other and form productive friendship groups.

Learners value the high-quality training they receive. They develop new knowledge and skills quickly, which they competently apply in their daily lives.

Learners feel privileged to study at the Institute."
